

About Terramin

Terramin Australia Limited (Terramin) is an Australian based company with its main assets and interests in South Australia and Algeria

The company is registered in Australia with its Registered Office in Adelaide, SA (Australian Business Number 67 062 576 238). Its shares are listed on the Australian Securities Exchange in 2003 (ASX) (Symbol: TZN).

Terramin is the parent holding company controlling Terramin Exploration Pty Ltd which holds the Bird in Hand Gold Project and associated leases.

Terramin holds the Exploration Licences 5469 and 6319.

Terramin administers and maintains the mineral claim and exploration licence and the other statutory instruments required by legislation and regulation.

Terramin has a highly capable team to take projects from exploration through feasibility to production. This team is supported by a Board which has extensive business and project development experience.

Australian Interests

International Interest

Bird in Hand historic workings north-south section (DME_SA 94-33)

Terramin Gold – South Australia

The SA government has identified gold as a key commodity for the State, recognising that South Australia is highly prospective for gold and has 27.5% of Australia’s demonstrated gold resource. Terramin developed a South Australian Gold Strategy and announced an aspirational target of one million ounces from regional exploration targets in July 2018.

Richard Taylor, Terramin CEO noted, that South Australia has been built on mining and that...

“Terramin has the skills to realise these opportunities with smart technologies, less impact and to create wealth for the community by working with government regulators to ensure protection of the environment and the community.”